

Bailey & Corey

Hello, we're Bailey and Corey from upstate New York. We are a youthful couple with lots of energy and love to share. We live in a cozy farm house with our affectionate canine companions. We have reached a point in our lives where we are ready to raise a family together and we look forward to welcoming children into our home someday soon. Although we cannot begin to imagine what you are going through, our hearts go out to you as you consider your options. We hope that through this profile you can get an idea of the family we hope to share with a child through the beautiful act of adoption.

About Us

Although we both attended high school in Albany, our paths never crossed during those years. After college, Bailey moved back to Albany, while Corey moved to New York City and then to San Francisco. In 2010 Corey moved back to Albany to be closer to his mother who was sick at the time. One evening while out with friends and family, Corey's eye brows caught Bailey's attention from across the room! We sparked a conversation and by the end of the evening, we had planned our first date to be the following week. We are now happily married and look forward to our biggest adventure yet, raising a family. We both place family as a top priority and have both seamlessly melded into each other's clan. We are hard workers, share the same humor, are both animal lovers and adventure seekers. We have celebrated graduations, new jobs, the births of nieces and nephews and the simple joys of togetherness. We've also endured some difficult times including the loss of parents and have been each other's greatest source of support. We will provide our future children with a well-rounded education and an endless support system of love and stability.

About Bailey

I am the first born of three girls and have always had a maternal calling. Taking care of anyone is a natural instinct to me. I always knew I wanted to be in the medical field and ultimately landed on nursing as my ideal career. I currently work as a pediatric nurse in our local Children's Hospital. I find that there is nothing more rewarding than helping children and their families through difficult times. Being a nurse allows me the opportunity to have a fulfilling career while also having a flexible schedule. As much as I love my job, I love my days off more! Typically, I am finding excuses to be outside. I even enjoy shoveling snow during the winter months! My absolute favorite thing to do with a night off is to go out to eat with Corey. A close second, is spending the evening with my girlfriends at our monthly "book club" meetings. I am an adventure seeker; I love roller coasters, obstacle courses, skiing, trampolines, and zip lines. I'd describe myself as easy-going and fun-loving. I look forward to becoming a mother and parenting happy, healthy children!

About Corey

I am the third of four children (two brothers and a sister.) My family is an extremely tight knit group. My siblings are still my closest friends to this day. I have a fantastic group of friends. My parents placed a great deal of emphasis on both education and participation in athletics. I grew up playing football, basketball, and lacrosse, and played lacrosse throughout my college years. After graduating, I moved to NY City and began a career in finance, first as an investment banker and then as a bond salesman and trader. After three years in NY, I decided to move to the West Coast, and spent the next two years in San Francisco, but it was too far from the people that mean the most to me. In 2010, I decided to move to Albany, NY, to be near my family. I met Bailey a few months later. We bought our first house together in 2012 and were married in early 2016. Bailey and I both have a deep love of traveling and look forward to sharing that with our future family. Our families, friends, and life experiences have provided us both with strong bases as we begin our life together and we are beyond excited to start our own family.

Our Home & Neighborhood

Our home is an updated farm house from the 1890's, in a suburban neighborhood. It is a warm and cozy home with plenty of room to start our family in. We love hosting Christmas in our home where we can watch our niece and nephew open gifts. In the summer our backyard is the place to be! We have a salt water swimming pool with a fun water slide. Our friends and family members are always welcome to come take a dip. We also have a tree house and tire swing to play on during the cooler months. Our dogs enjoy about 1 acre of grassy land on which to play fetch and sun bathe. Our neighborhood is suburban. It has a few restaurants and shops within walking distance. We enjoy being "locals" and are friendly with all of our neighborhood vendors. The capital city of Albany is only a few miles away and we are able to attend concerts and events. We live near a large playground and are in an excellent school district. Bailey enjoys going to the farmers' markets on the weekends and Corey frequents the local gym. On weeknights, we take our dogs on long walks.

We are intensely close to our Family & Friends, and being with them brings us so much joy!

Corey's family all live within driving distance to one another. He has an older brother, an older sister, as well as a younger brother. Along with the siblings there are brothers- and sisters-in-law as well as a handful of beloved nieces and nephews running around. Corey's father lives just 30 minutes away with his wife. Corey also has a very solid group of friends from college and high school that he sees regularly throughout the year.

Bailey's two younger sisters are her best friends and she sees them both regularly. Bailey's parents were divorced when she was young but the decision was amicable and the families were both able to provide a stable and loving environment. Whether it is Bailey's maternal or paternal side that is getting together, there are never less than 20 family members in attendance! Both sides are warm and welcoming, and friends and neighbors are always welcome to join.
